New council shorthanded

For just over twenty hours last week, it appeared that Elk Point voters would be heading to the polls on October 16 to determine which six of the seven nominees would fill Town Council seats for the next three years. Incumbents Alvina Schuhmacher, Steve Shmyr and Allan Frankiw, and former Councilor Morris Cooper filed nomination papers on Monday, September 18, while Adele Mandryk, Lawrence Pidluzny and Mike Glover heeded the call to fill out the slate on the following day.

Shortly before 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday, September 20, the race was over, when Steve Shmyr visited Town Office to withdraw his nomination. With the required six candidates now on the list, Returning Officer Pat Vincent then declared the six elected. However, moments later, Mike Glover submitted his resignation after what may well be the shortest Council

River water for Elk Point

Approval was granted last Thursday to a request by the Town of Elk Point to pump water from the North Saskatchewan River, rather than from Hook Lake, to fill the Town's raw water reservoir for winter use.

Mayor Bruce Kleeberger told Council at Monday's regular meeting that he believes that this will result in 'the most treatable water we have had for years.' This is the first time Elk Point has drawn water from the river.

Truckloads of pipes and pumps were delivered Monday, and the work of laying a temporary pipeline along the Highway 41 ditch and then across a field owned by John Zayonce to the reservoir got underway. The former ferry landing just west of the Elk Point Bridge was determined as an excellent site for water withdrawal. Pumping will begin later this week.

The North Saskatchewan is also one of the sources which will be researched in a municipal raw water supply study of which the redrafted terms of reference were reviewed by Council. Other sources to be covered by the study are Atimoswe Creek, Hook Lake and water wells. Water could be drawn direct from the river by pipeline or by hooking into St. Paul's pipeline. The Town is presently applying for a grant which would pay for 75 percent of the cost of the study.

Council spent a good portion of Monday's meeting reviewing a proposal for expenditure of the Municipal Recreation and Tourism Areas grant which had been submitted by the Recreation Board. The 'shopping list' of improvements for the Recreation Land includes completion of the overnight camping area, with fire pits, picnic tables, washrooms and signs, washrooms, bleachers and players' benches for the ball diamonds, expansion of the southwest diamond for baseball, installation of tennis courts, roadwork in the parking area, seed money for a concession booth at the ball diamonds, a kiddies' playground, an entrance sign, improvements to the golf course tee boxes and sand traps, four shelters for golfers, a heating plant for the clubhouse, and a water source to be used for the clubhouse and concession booth, either by means of a well and pressure system or by pipeline.

Other projects which had been considered were another slowpitch diamond and walk-in campsites in the area on the north side of Atimoswe Creek.

The recommendation was

Busy autumn for Chamber

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce is looking forward to a busy fall and winter season, with participation in a number of events discussed at last Wednesday's regular meeting.

The Chamber will once again sponsor an award at the annual F. G. Miller Awards Night, which takes place September 29, with President Vicki Brooker delegated to make the presentation.

Larry Demchuk has agreed to represent the Chamber at the Health Care Connection medical student interchange in Edmonton on September 28, while Bill Tremblay and Vic Stepa volunteered to man the Chamber booth at Information Night, September 21.

Word was received that the Lakeland Tourist Association is accepting bids for the hosting of their Annual Meeting and Workshop in January 1990. Although Elk Point does not boast a convention-centre-type hotel, the Chamber will put in a bid, as they feel Elk Point has as adequate a range of facilities as most of the communities in the tourist zone.

The Chamber also pledged their help to planning for the upcoming Bicentennial of Fort George and Buckingham House in 1992, and will advise the Historical Society that they are ready and willing to assist with the project.

With the only local election to be for the town's seat on the Elk Point Municipal Hospital Board, the Chamber hopes to have candidates Orest Capjack and John Williams on hand at the next meeting so they may meet with the Chamber and answer any questions about their election platforms.

The Chamber is once again short of one Executive member. Vice President Bill adopted and the application will be submitted. The Golf Club and Tennis Club will be advised that further input from their groups will be sought before development gets underway.

The Mural Park was completely ruled out as a recipient of MRTA funds. A Recreation, Parks and Wildlife grant may be available for that project, and grants from the Community Tourism Action Committee and the Wild Rose Foundation are being pursued.

The Golf Club's request for deferment of their 1989 lease payment was again studied, but all Council members agreed that since the Recreation Land is to be used on a user-pay basis, with fees to be charged for the use of ball diamonds and campsites once these are completed, the lease payment is now considered due and payable. When the land was acquired by the Town, it was noted, the Golf Club offered to pay the $3000 yearly fee for use of the course, and the golfers are the only users who have enjoyed the facilities over the past three years.

Two possible sources of environmental hazards were addressed by Council, who approved the submission of an application for funding under the Resource Recovery Grant Program to install a depot for the collection of used motor oil. The depot, similar to those in Lac La Biche and Vermilion, is to be located behind the Town Shop, with access via the avenue along the north side. All capital costs are covered by the program, while removal and trucking of the used oil is provided by the firms which recycle it for other uses.

A proposal to store used tires in a segregated area at the sanitary landfill location for collection by the Alberta

Waste Tire Recycling and Disposal Centre planned for development in Trochu, Alberta was discussed, and will be sent to the County of St. Paul for their views.

Council reviewed the final draft of the Northern Lights Library System agreement, and gave Bylaw 499/89, which would validate the agreement, first reading. The other two readings were deferred to the next meeting, as a full Council was not present. Information will be gathered ready to make a proposal for a headquarters site if the final two readings are approved before the October 20 deadline.

Seven are seeking to make Canadian political history

Seven candidates will be seeking to make political history in Canada by becoming the first elected senator ever.

Nominations for Alberta's Senatorial Election closed at 2 p.m. Monday. Soon after, the candidates names were released by Pat Ledgerwood, chief electoral officer for the Province of Alberta.

Bert Brown will represent the Progressive Conservative party, Bill Code is hoping to win a victory for the Liberal party and Stan Waters will be campaigning under the Reform banner. Four independents will also be looking to represent Alberta in the Senate in Ottawa, they are: Ivor Dent, Ken Paproski, Thomas Sindlinger and Gladys Taylor.

The provincial New Democrat Party has chosen not to nominate a Senate candidate, perceived as an act of protest in opposition to the province's decision to move ahead with a Senate election.

Under the Meech Lake Accord, provinces must submit a list of prospective candidates with the Prime Minister making the final decision. Just what impact Alberta's decision to hold a Senate Election will have on the Accord and whether Prime Minister Brian Mulroney will accept Alberta's choice, remains to be seen.

"Each candidate collected a minimum of 1,500 signatures of qualified electors on their nomination papers, which were filed with my office, together with a $4,000 deposit," Ledgerwood said. "Under Canada's Constitution, a Senator must have $4,000 in assets, as well as be at least 30 years old and a resident of Alberta."

This is the first time that Albertans will effectively all be part of one single constituency, voting on a province-wide basis to elect an individual. The Senate election will be held in conjunction with the municipal election Oct. 16.

"My office has had to devise procedures for receiving the unofficial results from across the province in a timely manner," Ledgerwood said. "We will be conducting a dress rehearsal on Oct. 11 to make sure that everything goes smoothly on Oct. 16."

Results of the Senate election will be telephoned to a computer in Ledgerwood's office. These unofficial results will be tabulated, compiled and when the counts from all the municipal entities have been received, the unofficial results will be announced. Periodic updates will be made public while the count is proceeding.

The vote for the senate election will be held at the same location as the municipal election being held in each area. Separate senate ballots will be distributed to each municipality.

Albertans can vote in the Senate election if they: are 18 years or older, a Canadian citizen, a resident of Alberta for at least six months and ordinarily live in the area in which they wish to vote.

Something for everyone

Congratulations to the Recreation Board, who must have indeed used the wisdom of Solomon in their deliberations regarding the use of Municipal Recreation / Tourism Area grant funds.

The list of proposed developments presented at Monday's meeting of Town Council seems to have something for virtually everyone who is likely to use the recreation area, regardless of age or interests.

Improvements to the golf course will no doubt be much enjoyed by all those who participate in that sport, especially on cooler days when the shelters and clubhouse heating will add to the comfort of the golfers. Neither would have come amiss, for example, on the chilly morn of the Club Championships earlier this month.

Completion of the campsites will mean that Elk Point is ready for visitors who can then enjoy the picturesque setting of the Atimoswe Creek valley, whether they are just stopping for the night on their way to some other destination, or are attending a ball tournament or golf tournament on the grounds, or want a quiet place to relax between visits to area points of interest. It's even the ideal spot for local families to introduce their children to the enjoyment of camping, without driving a long distance or worrying about waking up to find a bear sitting on their picnic table.

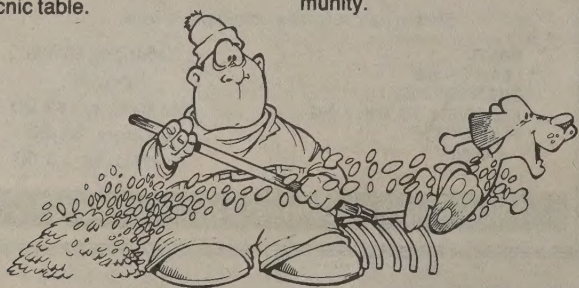

Seating, a concession booth and washrooms at the ball diamonds will be beneficial to both players and spectators of that very popular sport, and it will be nice to have a site for ball tournaments right beside our own community.

A kiddies' playground is a real bonus. We are all aware how restless the little people can be when Mom and Dad are watching a ball game, and how eager they are to have something active to do once they have explored the campground.

Tennis courts are another great idea. While there may not be too many tennis players in the community at the present time, it may well be that most of us have never had the opportunity to learn this energetic pastime, and would enjoy trying out the courts as a form of healthy and enjoyable recreation.

A handsome sign to proclaim to all comers that Elk Point is proud to call this recreation area their own will be a fitting tribute to all those who have worked together to provide it, including those Recreation Board members who so carefully masterminded the division of funds for the maximum enjoyment of all.

We look forward to seeing the completed area, and to enjoying its use with the rest of the community.

Christopher Kondla...

When love is not enough

By Thomas Kondla

As a single father raising a disabled child, I am faced with many challenges. My son, Christopher, is four years old and has been a quadriplegic since birth. He has no controlled use of his muscles, has no visual awareness, and has no developed way to communicate. He is totally dependent on the care of others. Caring for a child with this severe disability is not only a challenge, it raises many problems to be conquered. If asked how I handle such a difficult challenge, I must admit at times it is emotionally, physically and mentally difficult. Through this experience, I have learned a great deal about love, patience for my son and for life, that keeps me going. When things are difficult to manage sometimes I only need to look into Christopher's eyes and to see the heartbreaking smile on my son's face, and in his own unknown way, he pulls me through.

Christopher requires special care for daily living which includes therapy, stimulation, medication for seizure control, a great deal of patience and a very special kind of love. One of the more noted challenges that most people are unaware is the time that it takes to feed a child with this level of disability. Christopher lacks the muscle control we take for granted to control his tongue and to chew, which also makes swallowing very difficult. Christopher's feeding time for one meal averages around one hour. This creates its own set of problems, including planning a time schedule that allows proper feeding time.

Another challenge is also that Christopher has had six appointments with specialists in the last five months in Edmonton which also had to be worked into my schedule.

Thanks to the County of St. Paul School Division, Christopher is now on an Early Intervention Program and has a teacher's aide that works with him forty hours a week. Unfortunately, my job consists of shift-work, and this conflicts with regular school hours. This has left me with a new challenge. All I have to do is find someone who can find enough love in their heart, time on their hands, patience, and is willing to work very odd hours to babysit Christopher so I can maintain my present work schedule. Maybe you have noticed my ad in this paper; still no response.

Through the moral support of my family, friends and a few other limited resources, I think I've managed to handle the situation very well. But, each day brings new problems, tougher challenges and hardships to overcome.

One of the greatest challenges I face is the "system" itself. There seems to be very little in the way of resources, stress relief, and respite care available, and what is available is very limited. I've carried the load virtually unaided for the past two years but I'm man enough to admit, the burden is becoming too great. In the past year, I have had to deal with a lot of stress. Giving my son the love, care, and attention he needs and deserves in some ways has become my prison. I've sacrificed a lot in the past two years to give my son the best care I can and I've had very few breaks because I do not have the family support system to assist me in the daily care of my son. I hold down a full time job and the rest of my time is spent giving my son the best care I can.

The stress is building and I am faced with a long term problem. Elk Point is my home and I like it here and I want to remain making this my home. One choice I do have is to quit my present job and let society support me and my son so I can continue to give my son the love and care he needs and deserves. This may seem

Letter to the Editor

Banner year

Dear Editor:

The 1989 Fundraising total for Alberta/NWT has reached an all-time high of $3.620 million. Within the last two years there has been a 20% increase in our Division fund-raising totals and this has not been by accident. This has been made possible through commitment and dedication of our volunteers and staff of the Alberta/NWT Division.

Albertans donate $1.50 each to the Canadian Cancer Society every year. This level of confidence in the Canadian Cancer Society can only be obtained through the good work that you are doing, whether it is the door-to-door, the daffodil sales or at a special event. When you are a volunteer with the Canadian Cancer Society, YOU are the Canadian Cancer Society.

You all deserve loud applause for your hard work during 1989. When you are raising funds for the Canadian Cancer Society, you are truly helping your community, your neighbors and your loved ones. Without your commitment and dedication, these funds would not be possible and the programs through Patient Service, Education and Cancer Research in Alberta and Canada would not be carried out. It is a tremendous effort on the part of the volunteers.

The Vermilion Unit covers a large area in northeastern Alberta. It stretches from Cold Lake, Grand Centre, like a very drastic measure, and I would rather not have to do it, but if that's what it takes to get some answers... With a proper stress relief program and respite care for my son and I, I know that I can continue, but these programs are virtually non-existent in rural Alberta. What would you do in my situation? How would you face these challenges? I am not looking for sympathy or praise, I am looking for help, ideas and suggestions.

Sometime, maybe in the near future, maybe another child will be born in our community that requires special love and care and that family will also require support relief and respite care. If we put our heads together as a community, maybe we can come up with a volunteer relief program of our own. I believe there are other people within our community and local area that could also use these services.

If you are interested in doing relief care for myself and others, you could become a Host Family under the currently existing "Host Family Program" and be paid $35/day for your services, and open your family to a whole new part of life. For more information on this program, please feel free to contact me. If you have any ideas or suggestions to help my situation or if you support a community relief program, please let me know. Any feedback from the community and the surrounding area would be greatly appreciated and welcomed. My address is Box 783, Elk Point, Alberta T0A 1A0, and my phone number is 724-3793.

For a parent of normal, healthy children, love and care comes naturally, but for the parent of a disabled child, often these things are a challenge. Loving your child shouldn't be painful but, unfortunately, sometimes it is. Where can we turn when love is not enough?

Taylor in the running

Weekly newspaper publisher Gladys Taylor of Irricana, Alberta, has announced that she will seek Alberta's first elected senate seat. Taylor is running as an Independent, because she feels 'this is the first step away from the party patronage that has made such a mockery of our present senate.'

A teacher by profession, she joined the Canadian Women's Army Corps in 1943 and worked with their Public Relation Office, where she started her writing career. She entered the newspaper publishing field in 1969, and now publishes the Rocky View Five Village Weekly, the Carstairs Courier and the Wheel and Deal. She has also written four books, including 'Alone In the Australian Outback,' regarding her adventures on a solo motor trip around that continent, and 'Alone In The Boardroom,' which tells of the experiences she has encountered in running a business. The latter volume also reveals her support for the Triple E Senate concept.

If elected, she plans to fight the 'clawback,' which she feels threatens to take away the 'hard-earned savings' of seniors receiving the old age pension. She also plans to fight the controversial Goods and Services Tax as it now stands, because of the endless hours of paperwork which will require additional civil servants (and thus, extra wages) to collect. Instead, she suggests a 'dollar for dollar basis,' with the government agreeing to save one dollar for each dollar paid in tax, which 'should soon put a dent in the deficit.'

Taylor also opposes the Meech Lake Accord as it now stands, being 'too hastily conceived and too poorly presented to the people.' In addition, she feels bilingualism has no place in the rest of Canada while Quebec is unilingual.

Twenty years as a single mother 'fighting to make a living for myself and my family' after 30 years as wife and mother who did not work outside the home have made Taylor a staunch advocate of equal opportunity, with equal pay for men and women doing the same type of work, and the right to Canada Pension Plan benefits for those women who remain in the home.

As an Independent senator with 'no party to answer to,' Taylor feels she could start a move toward curbing government spending, which other senators 'never do because of party pressure.' She also feels she could be 'the thin edge of the wedge' toward senate reform in Canada.

'I won't promise you a rose garden,' Taylor concluded, 'but I promise to be a thorn in the flesh of those who are spending us into bankruptcy, toxic-wasting us into ill health and taxing us to death.'

Senate Election

Biggest change since constitution

Calgary, Alberta - "Alberta's unique Senate election will play an important and potentially decisive role at the outset of what could become the most fundamental change in Canada's constitution since Confederation," Stan Waters, Reform Party candidate said recently.

"For the first time, the door is opening for meaningful Senate reform," he added, "and success of the movement would contribute more to Canadian unity than the current approach to bilingualism or the proposals contained in the Meech Lake Accord."

The citizens of Alberta will play a vital role in increasing the Western Province's place in the governing of Canada, he says. "Success of the Reform Party," Waters says, "will allow the provinces to be represented on an equal basis in the Upper House and bring balance to our legislative system. This was the original intent of the Fathers of Confederation when the Senate was created to protect provincial rights."

For the media, the Senate Election provides the opportunity of covering one of this province's most unique political events.

Where Does It All Go?

That's what some miffed motorist must have wondered, as he or she stopped along Secondary Highway 646 just west of Highway 41 to perform some alterations on the road sign. Actually, quite a heap of gravel is in a row down the ditch, sent there by the passage of graders and snowplows. If someone would just invent a machine to gather it up and toss it back onto the road, rural residents would save many tax dollars on regravelling.

Building projects moving along nicely

By Diane Bellerive
Staff Writer

Teacherage

*The board has decided to keep the Heinsburg teacherage at the school's request to be used as a storage area.

Busses

*The two busses that the school board has recently purchased have arrived and are in operation.

Requests

In August, the board approved applications for seven students to attend school in Gravelbourg Sask. In the interim, one of the applicants moved to St. Paul. His request for funding has now been directed to the St. Paul School District.

*The board heard Simone Pomerleau's third appeal to have her child sent to St. Paul while living in the Mallaig area. The board upheld it's original decision directing the student to Mallaig.

*One student in the Elk Point district has been directed to attend St. Paul Regional, due to the student's special needs.

*Ashmont Secondary school has been granted $2,500 by the board to build a storage shed for the school by its Industrial Arts students.

Emergency Application

*During an inspection and general maintenance on the furnaces at Ashmont Elementary and Mallaig schools, it was discovered that the boilers were rusted out. A special application was made to the 1989 BQRP for funding to replace the units.

Projects

*The Elk Point Elementary project is almost completed with an addition to the gym, mechanical rooms, relocatables and remodernization of the old part.

*In Mallaig, the project has run into problems. The company that was to provide the decking has gone into bankruptcy. However, another company has been found to complete the work.

*In Ashmont, the footings have been started for the washrooms and music rooms.

*The board decided to grant F. G. Miller School $2,500 for basketball hoops. The hoops cost $10,000 and $7,500 has already been raised by the school and community.

Hired

*Because of increased enrollment in Grade one, at the Elk Point Elementary, the board has had to hire an additional two teachers.

*A part-time aide has been hired for Ashmont Elementary to meet the special needs of a student.

*A federal grant had been applied for and received to hire a coordinator for more French teaching. Lillian Mahe has been hired for the position.

*Albina Brousseau has been hired the French Monitor for Mallaig

Conferences

*The board has sent two people to attend the Public School Board's Association of Alberta Meeting on Sept.14.

*The board has decided to allow all administrators and school principals to attend the Western School Administrators' Conference in October. The conference is three days long.

Alberta's future - our north

by Bob Elliott, Chairman,
The Northern Alberta Development
Council, MLA Grande Prairie

From time to time, people ask me: "What is the Northern Alberta Development Council anyway?"

I'm always surprised when this happens. The NADC has been around for 25 years, after all, and one would think its work and its purpose would be well-known by now. But that simply isn't so.

The NADC has always maintained a low profile in the north. For example, we don't advertise our accomplishments. And we don't show up at fairs and exhibitions extolling our works, or get on talk shows, or even take credit for the things we do.

The downside of this humble approach is that many northerners remain unaware of the positive things Council is involved with - things like the student bursary program and the many community projects we assist.

The time has come, in my opinion, for us to tell our story. I believe the Northern Alberta Development Council is doing a rather special job and doing it well, and so I'd like to put the Council's story before you on an on-going basis. To accomplish this, I propose to write about what the Council is doing and where. And I'd like to do this regularly.

If you are reading this and asking yourself who Bob Elliott thinks he is and why he is speaking out for the NADC, I'd like to explain that I have been a sitting member of the Council since 1983, the last three years of that time as chairman. Premier Don Getty has recently appointed me to serve a second term as the Council's chairman, I am also MLA for Grande Prairie. A committed northerner, I have lived in Beaverlodge for more than 30 years.

If you are also wondering if the NADC is worth writing about, let me tell you that the Council is so highly regarded by other provinces that both B.C. and Saskatchewan have recently formed similar bodies, both of which are modelled in large part on the Northern Alberta Development Council. As well, Manitoba is looking at what we do and how we do it.

It doesn't seem fair that Council should be like the prophet of biblical fame - without honor in its own country but well-esteemed abroad. That's why I look forward to bringing the Northern Alberta Development Council's story into every home in the north on a regular basis.

Because members of Council are busy people with jobs in other fields, a support staff called the Northern Development Branch, located in Peace River, takes care of secretarial and administrative work for the Council. If you wish to contact the Council, please feel free to write to the Peace River office at Postal Bag 900-14, Peace River, Alberta T8S 1T4, or phone 624-6274.

In the next column, I will discuss the Council's public meeting process and tell you of the successes we have had in working with the briefs presented by northerners at those meetings.

CANADA-ALBERTA Crop Insurance

If you have a claim for crop loss
file as soon as you finish harvest.

Canada-Alberta Crop Insurance benefits cannot be claimed later than 15 days after you have completed harvest on your farm.

So, if you have a claim because your insured crop was damaged or destroyed, don't delay in filing it at the Alberta Hail & Crop Insurance Corporation office in your district.

And find out, too, about production shortage payments for insured crops on which hail damage has already been claimed.

Crop report

Harvest progressed slowly in the Elk Point area last week, with only 4 to 5 hours suitable for combining each day. Cold weather and light showers have caused delays.

Swathing is nearly complete, with about 5 percent each of wheat, oats and barley still standing, while combining of crops ranges from 30 percent of wheat to 60 percent of rye. Eighty percent of wheat is grading 3 CWSR, with the balance Canadian Feed, while 25 percent of barley grades 1 CW and the rest 2 CW.

By Eileen Norby

You are an individual with a particular moment of birth. You were born at a specific time in a specific place, therefore, you have a horoscope. Mention astrology and suddenly everyone thinks of predicting the future. Predictions are like fattening desserts, you're not supposed to have it too often. The influence of the constellations, the Zodiac; they exist. You or I cannot explain why but it's proved itself over and over. The astrologers are not always wrong. The alignment of the planets can affect the behavior of the Earth. Right now, the Sun is most active with Sun Spots. The solar cycle is known to have a period of eleven years, therefore, we may experience a major earthquake, strong tidal effects and storms. I am thinking of Hurricane Hugo! The balance of the Earth's magnetosphere has been upset. Our weather is greatly disturbed because of these Sun Spots. Don't be embarrassed to talk about these things. We may discover how celestial and terrestrial phenomena are related. The butterfly may yet emerge from the chrysalis.

Aries
Use this week to begin an exercise routine. Set goals directly related to your ambitions. The old Leo Moon brings out the prankster in you. You can have a delightful evening right in your own home.

Taurus
Spend time with your children to give them the confidence and security they need. Praise them and encourage. Let them show off occasionally. The kids know the house rules. Enjoy and protect. You'll find the pace rigorous.

Gemini
Talk on - You're in heaven. BUT! Money is low. You're sure travelling, Gemini. You're lonely, but it goes along with your new life. No place like home. You have the spirit to win over all odds.

Cancer

Don't waste your time on hurt feelings. Square up and fly right. You have extra pizzazz with your loved one. Abandon your old ways and be a "love" man. Be flexible and take full advantage, now!

Leo

You are basking in the sunshine of Unity. Show others that you love them. A relationship you are now in is headed nowhere. An idle day gives you lots of dream time. A blessing in disguise.

Virgo

You are enjoying the fruits of your labor. Money problems partially resolved with a careful budget. Sweet and cherished memories of a loved one will rise to the surface. Fight off tension with a vigorous workout.

Libra

Impromptu gathering is held at your house. you have a rush of ideas. All you have to do is decide which path to take. Don't lend money when you can't afford it. A new enterprise surrounds you at this difficult time.

Scorpio

What a powerful and wonderful time that was! Lifetime happiness is a postage stamp away. Touch up your home to brighten your feelings. Don't cling to the past. Put roots down. Swim with the tide, not against the current.

Sagittarius

Poor old rebellious Archer. A sympathetic word can be as healing as medicine - perhaps more so. Plan for an improved residence. You certainly get good physical activity to keep you in top form. Keep smiling.

Capricorn

So very much upheaval makes you feel at a disadvantage. Seek the help of someone else who is better able to guide you. Sun Spots give you strange moods. A good sense of humor works wonders.

Aquarius

A power struggle is affecting your life. You feel jittery but all's well that ends well. It was easy when you adhered to the guidelines. A strange dream will soon come true. Wear your amethyst birthstone for Good Luck.

Pisces

With the right words, that lukewarm relationship can become a tinderbox of hot and flaming ardor. Your Neptunian personality makes you generous. Is there an ulterior motive? Avoid negative attitude. Don't believe everything you hear. No secrets!

HEINSBURG COMMUNITY CLUB BINGOBegin Wednesday, October 4, 1989*Doors Open at 6:00 p.m.; Early Bird at 7:00 p.m.; Regular Games at 7:30 p.m. - NEW FORMAT!*Ruthless Writers*Long range predictions made easy*By Billie Milholland

The trees have turned color, the gardens are nearly in, and the smell of high bush cranberry is offending the nostrils of everyone who does not understand what delectable jelly can be made from them. We cannot ignore the fact that fall is here and winter is breathing down our necks. Will we have a harsh winter? A mild one? An erratic one? A senior citizen told me the other day that we are in for a very severe winter because the mountain ash berries on his trees are more abundant than normal. Another person told me that this winter is going to be very mild because the berry crops right across North America were sparse this year and the bears don't have enough fat to last a long hard winter.

I think that there are other ways to look for accurate winter predictions. Mail order catalogues are a good place to start. Think of it. The year that winter coats are short and sassy and winter boots are as delicate as slippers is a year of blizzards and five meter snow banks. The year that winter fashions are long, heavy and bulky is a winter of balmy chinooks and light snowfall.

If you are not fashion conscious, and don't pay attention to trends, stop in and see Rilla Higgins. She has information that could predict what kind of winter we will have. If there are good seat sales to warm places this winter, it is guaranteed that winter will be mild. If the cost of trips to tropical paradises is steep so that most of us cannot plan to leave winter behind, then the winter will certainly be long and harsh.

Have you started an addition on your barn or house? If you have, it stands to reason that snow will come and stay before Thanksgiving. The same goes for your fall bulbs. If your tulips are already planted, then winter won't start until Christmas. And, naturally, if your crocuses and snowdrops haven't arrived yet, then winter is only a few days away.

Long range predictions are really a matter of common sense. Simply consider the strange sense of humor present in the universe, a fact that precipitated the discovery of Murphy's Law, consider your most important plans for the winter and you'll be just as right as any weather person with satellites and dozens of computers.

PTA begins new season

The F. G. Miller High School Parent Teacher Association held their first meeting of the 1989-90 school year on September 14, with 22 people in attendance.

New teachers Cheri Lindquist and Henri Joly were introduced and welcomed to the school. Additions to the curriculum, including the mandatory Careers and Life Management (CALM) course for Grade 11, Science 14 and 24, Social Studies 23 and the new Grade 7 Science were outlined, with mention made that Alberta Education is looking at combining the three sciences at high school level.

School Trustee Janice Van Maarion suggested that a proposal for building renovations and enlargement in 1992 be submitted now, and offered to try to get a consultant from the Department of Education to do a feasibility study on the plans.

Guest speaker was Shirley Jorgenson of the North East Alberta Health Unit, who presented information on the programs available on Human Sexuality, as well as on the videos and pamphlets which are available on request. The school will be looking at setting up workshops for students in Grades 7 to 12, and also for parents, regarding communication.

Fundraising for the Basketball Backboards is well underway, with $2140 in donations, $3100 in a Municipal Recreation Grant, and $2500 from the County of St. Paul, and the proceeds from the Shootathon still to be added. The backboards have been ordered and should be installed about the middle of October. All those who took part in the project are to be commended.

The Students' Union has asked for the amendment of the door closing policy at school dances to the doors being open until 11:00 p.m., but with anyone leaving between 10:00 and 11:00 p.m. not allowed back in. This was agreed to.

The meeting ended with the election of a new executive. Diana Anderson was returned as President, with Carolyn Onusko tentatively named as Vice President (this is yet to be confirmed), and Coral Tremblay as Secretary-Treasurer. The name of the Students Union representative will be forthcoming. Mr. Lis will continue as advisor for the SADD program.

In closing, the PTA agreed that news from their meeting minutes should be carried in the Lakeland Review each month.

The next meeting is scheduled for October 11.

John Zenko Seeks Re-election

The municipal election will be held on October 16 of this year. I am pleased to announce that I will be running for the office of County Councillor for Division 2.

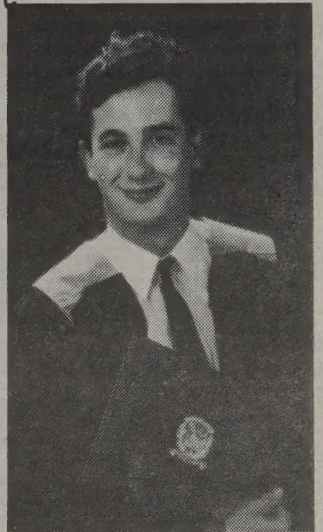

Having the experience necessary to fill this office, and understanding the responsibilities and expectations of the people, I would feel privileged to represent the people of Division 2 again. The County has experienced a great deal of improvement and success over the last number of years and I am proud to have been an active member for 12 of these years. I look forward to maintaining this pace of achievements by meeting the challenges of future programs and the expectations of you, the ratepayers. I welcome you to voice your concerns in me so that we, together, can better meet the needs of the people in the County.

Being semi-retired, I have the time necessary to do a good job in this position without having other obligations to interfere with my commitment. In the past, I have enjoyed the commitment and pace that this position demands and I look forward to continuing to serve your needs in the future.

In closing, I respectfully ask for your support in the forthcoming election.

JOHN ZENKOGraduation

What's news at the library?

It was a pleasure to see so many patrons at the Elk Point Community information night. Paid up library members were able to enter their name in a draw for a book. Louise Jenkins was the lucky winner. Congratulations!

If you are looking for a memento of Elk Point, the library has on hand a number of Mural Pins and Library Pins for sale at $1.50.

We have received a lot of new material in the last few weeks. We are short staffed for a while, so would certainly appreciate some volunteer's help to process this material. If you are able to type and have a few hours to spare, we would be most grateful for your help.

Our new videos for this week are: "Meet Me In St. Louis" starring Judy

Garland. "What's Happening To Me?" solves the puzzle of puberty and offers quick relief for the growing pains we've all experienced. And while puberty may not be fun, learning about it is - in this humorous, fully animated videocassette. "Where Did I Come From?" - tells the story of conception through birth in a way that lets children (and sometimes their parents) learn while they laugh. In half an hour of full color animation, it answers all those awkward and unavoidable questions that have embarrassed mothers and fathers ever since kids and curiosity were invented.

New Books: "The House Is Not A Home" by Erik Nielsen - Erik Nielsen was elected MP for Yukon in 1957 and spent the next thirty years in politics. Here, for the first time, he speaks openly about his role in shaping events from the Rivard Affair to the working style of Brian Mulroney.

More Murals...

Billie Milholland's fame as a mural artist is spreading further afield. Her latest work, this rendering of a Viking warrior, adorns the Camrose Co-op store, while a pair of graceful swans are situated over the entrance to the Crystal Springs Motor Hotel in that city. Both murals are part of the art created in readiness for the Alberta Winter Games which Camrose will host early in 1990.

LAUNDRY FOR THE LITTLE LEAGUE AND THE HOME TEAM—ONLY 20¢ A LOAD

ELECTRICITY: A GOOD, CLEAN BARGAIN!

If your laundry day includes loads and loads for you, the family and a little league team too, you'll use a lot of water and soap, but the power needed for all that washing and drying will only cost you about 20 cents a load.

Ironing sets you back just six cents an hour.

Got the energy to give the lawn a trim too? Your electric mower operates for only seven cents an hour. If vacuuming the house is on the agenda, that's less than a dime an hour.

Want to sit back and relax after it's all done with a cup of coffee? Make a pot and keep it hot for under two cents an hour.

We can't make work around the house any easier, but in a day and age when the cost of just about everything seems so high, it's nice to know that electricity is still a great bargain.
